

Choruses Will Give "Creation"

Three Westminster Choir
Soloists Chosen for Annual Event

PROF. BEDFORD TO LEAD PRODUCTION

One hundred and ten members of the Middlebury College Choral society, led by Prof. H. Ward Bedford, will present the Handel oratorio, "The Creation", at a concert Friday evening at 8:15 in Mead chapel. Three singers from the Westminster Choir school at Princeton will act as soloists.

"Hayden," said Professor Bedford, "who is regarded as the first great master of the symphony and string quartet, wrote 'The Creation' for a special group of musicians who gathered around the Schwartzburg palace of Vienna. The text is taken from the Biblical story found in Genesis. It has been performed frequently because of its tunefulness and joviality."

All the soloists this year are from the faculty of the Westminster Choir school. The soprano, Miss LoRan Hodapp, who may be recalled for her work last year with the performance of "Stabat Mater" will handle the soprano parts. According to Professor Bedford, "her voice is admirably suited to the clear lyric character the work demands." She will sing the aria, "With Verdure Clad", regarded as one of the best known pieces of the oratorio.

The visiting tenor, Mr. John Hamill, has never appeared at Middlebury before. A young man with a very high lyric voice, Mr. Hamill has appeared with a number of oratorio societies of the middle west.

The bass, George Krueger, is likewise a newcomer. Recently appointed as assistant to the director of the Westminster school, Dr. John Finley Williamson, Mr. Krueger was, until this year, associated with various musical activities of Cleveland, including the Institute of Music. To quote Mr. Bedford, the bass is "a giant in stature with a voice to match, who will bring to his role the richness and dramatic qualities necessary to make it effective."

Rachel Dean Gives Organ Recital Including Contrasting Compositions

By William F. D. Idle '42
Last night in Mead chapel an organ recital was given by Rachel Dean, professor of organ and piano at Green Mountain Junior college. The recital was attended by a small but appreciative audience.

The program was representative of the greatest music composed for the organ. It was opened by the "Toccata and Fugue" in D minor by Bach. This in one way was unfortunate as any work following this masterpiece is very likely to be in the nature of an anticlimax. This magnificent work seems to say all that it is possible to say through the medium of the organ. Bach's music, with the precision and clarity of mathematics, may, as has been said, appeal more to the intellect than to the emotions, but it succeeds in transporting the listener to a higher level from which troubles and worldly matters seem remote and unimportant.

The number following the "Bach Fugue" was the "Allegro Cantabile," from the fifth organ symphony of Widor. This work had a smooth, flowing, and song-like quality, but seemed repetitious and monotonous. Possibly it may be heard to greater advantage as a part of the complete work from which it was taken.

The next composition, "Hours in Burgundy" by Jacob, was divided into three sections, "Sunrise", "Awakening", and "The Rain."

A piece of work comparable to the Bach composition was the next item

YOUTHFUL VIOLINIST TO BE FEATURED MAY 4 IN ORCHESTRA CONCERT

Miss Pearl Berman, fifteen-year-old American violinist from New York, will be the guest artist with the college orchestra at a concert May 4 in Mead chapel.

She is a pupil of Miss Gladys Gouvreau and Mishel Plastro, concertmaster of the New York Philharmonic orchestra.

Miss Berman will play Mozart's A major concerto with the orchestra as well as the following selections accompanied by Miss Gouvreau:

Vitali's "Chaconne", a Mozart "Rondo", and "Gypsy Airs" by Sarasate.

Miss Berman has played at the Town Hall in New York city and at a concert in Central Park last summer. She has also appeared with several symphony orchestras including that of Judge Prince.

This will be the third program of the year presented by the college orchestra under the direction of Mr. Harold Frantz.

Chairmen To See Junior Week Skits

Six Variety Show Playlets
Will Be Previewed by Grosenbaugh, Schragle

Review of the 1940 Junior Week Variety Show acts has been postponed a few days to permit more students to enter the competition, according to an announcement by Robert F. Schragle '40 and Page R. Grosenbaugh '40, co-chairmen of the event.

Four skits have already been approved by the committee and six more groups have signified their readiness. The four stunts are solos by Ralph Petrizzi '39 and Robert V. Cushman '39, and two dance team routines, by Doris E. Keffer '40 and Betsey B. White '40, and by Robert L. deVeer '41 and Elizabeth G. Heldman '39.

The six stunts to be reviewed by the committee include a skit by Kappa Delta Rho, a selection by the three-piece freshman orchestra composed of Roger W. Howard, Phillip W. Lees, and William F. Youngs, a skit by Sigma Alpha, headed by John W. Holt '41, a Schnittzbank by members of the glee club, and skits by Beta Kappa and Delta Upsilon.

on the program, the "Cesar Franck Chorale" in A minor. This number, more emotional in temperament has the same effect as the Bach music, but works in a different manner. The Bach fugue entrances the hearer through sheer self-righteous power and grandeur. Franck, with beautiful melodies and shifting harmonies, creates a mood of mysticism and imagination. Mystical meditation then gives way to the full-throated exultation of the joyous closing. Bach's music was objective, and follows a clearly defined pattern to a definite ending. Franck was more introspective and less restricted in form.

The numbers following the Chorale were "Souvenirs", by Dupre, "Echo" by Pietro Yon, and "Thou Art the Rock", by Mulet. The composition by Dupre, one of the outstanding organ teachers of to-day, was quiet in mood, melodious, and employed modern harmonies.

"Echo" by Yon was a short number in the form of a double canon. "Thou Art the Rock" supposedly typified the Church standing firm throughout the ages. There seemed to be a lack of thematic material in this number. It was largely an ever-mounting succession of chords. It is questionable whether this number was powerful or melodramatic. The religious quality was submerged and the number seemed more appropriate as accompaniment for a Wild West movie than for a drama of the Church.

New Student Government Constitution For Men Will Be Voted On Saturday

Play Direction
Class To Give
Experimentals

Three experimental one-act plays will be presented tonight at the Playhouse under the supervision of members of the play direction class.

"Shooting Star", written by Jack W. Lewis, will be directed by Gertrude M. Bittle '39, and the cast is as follows:

Russell Day ----- Edward J. Drew '40
Rita ----- Marjorie D. Marsh '39
Mrs. Wilson ----- Janet E. Sutcliffe '41
Pete ----- James H. Cassidy '41
Billy ----- Ely Silverman '41

Arthur M. Jamieson '40 is handling the production of "Sparkin'" by E. P. Conkle and his cast includes the following:

Granny Painsberry

Audrey H. Wouters '41
Orry Sparks ----- Herbert G. Schoepke '40
Susan Hannah ----- Frances M. Cady '41

Leslie Hannah ----- Doris L. Wolff '41
"Across the Border" by Colin Clements will be directed by Dorothy E. Wing '39. The following cast will appear in this production:

Mrs. Hopper ----- Elizabeth G. Stratton '41
Ed Hopper ----- William G. Meader, Jr. '41
Frank Henderson ----- Leroy F. Hovey '41

Ruth E. Colesworthy '39, Gretta E. English '39, and Janet L. Buehn '40 are in charge of the properties, while the costumes will be handled by Margaret B. Ray '39, Dorothy H. Smith '39, and Ruth E. Thompson '40. Anne Mears '39 and Betty Rieinger '39 will be in charge of the lighting.

Leggett, Robertson Elected Marshals

Chairmen Reveal Program
Of Class Day Exercises
And Announce Speakers

Glenn H. Leggett and M. Elizabeth Robertson have been elected junior marshals to serve during the 1939 Commencement exercises scheduled this year June 10 to 12.

The seniors elected the junior marshals after chapel this morning. Previously a list had been distributed to the class with the names of nominees chosen by the committee. Nominations were also to be allowed from the floor at the time of election. The nominees were as follows: William Blackmore, Frederick J. Grab, Glenn H. Leggett, Robert F. Pickard, Robert F. Schragle, Harold I. Wyman, C. Jane Appleton, Doris R. Jones, Mary E. McDermott, Patricia May, M. Elizabeth Robertson, and Constance C. Trotter.

Stanley E. Sprague is the chairman of Class Day. The program will open with a talk by Edwin G. Nixon, class president. Phillips Palmer will give the class oration. Following this will be the class will by Frederic A. Wheeler and Elizabeth Grace Heldman, and the class prophecy by Loring P. Lane and Carol L. Flischer. Brooks A. Jenkins will then give the class poem, Dean John H. Patterson will conclude the program by announcing academic honors.

Preceding the Class Day exercises the seniors will be escorted from the chapel to lower campus by junior women, carrying the daisy chain. In case of rain, the exercises will be held in the gymnasium. The traditional tree planting and pipe smoking will take place after Class Day.

Announcements and invitations arrive this week and agents will be soliciting orders soon. There will be a descriptive bulletin with a white leather cover on which will appear a drawing of Old Chapel by Foster P. Whitworth, Jr.

William J. Heck, chairman of the Senior Ball, announces that several bands are under consideration and one will be chosen in the very near future. The Senior Ball is open to all undergraduates and is just like any other formal dance.

Undergraduate Association Must Pass on Proposal With Two-Thirds Ballot Before Adoption; Student Union Majority Needed

FORMULATED BY BOGART, ONION, PALMER

A completely reorganized men's student government is outlined in the new constitution of men's student government which is to be presented for first reading in chapel tomorrow morning. The work of a committee composed of Edward E. Palmer '39, William A. Onion '40 and Professor Walter T. Bogart, the new constitution has been passed by the Student council and given the preliminary approval of the Student Life committee.

Junior Week Play To Be Melodrama

"Murder in the Red Barn",
Revival, Will Be Staged
On May Ninth and Tenth

"Maria Marten, or the Murder in the Red Barn," will be revived for the Junior Week play to be given Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, May 9 and 10, preceding the Junior week-end.

The play has no definite or authentic author, but has been adapted from an old English story. It is one of the earliest melodramas, with its first production in 1840.

The play was first introduced into this country by the jitney players, who traveled about in wagons and acted out their plays, using the wagons as crude stages.

To preserve the atmosphere of the old play, individual performances and acts will be given between the acts of the play. The costuming will be in keeping with the time of the play.

Casting is about completed for this melodrama, which will be the first attraction of the Junior week-end.

This is not the first time that Middlebury students have given this type of revival play. Two years ago, "Gold in the Hills" was given at the college, and about seven years ago, another old play was revived, "Fashion."

Special Reduction Given To Colleges

Sale of Student Tickets for
New York World's Fair
To Continue This Week

Special World's Fair tickets for college students and faculty are still on sale at the office of the president, and extension of sale has been made for another week.

The special college student and school teacher's tickets are the season ticket at $7.50 and the twenty admission ticket at $5.00. Both are non-transferable, and carry the photograph of the owner. The season ticket entitles him to unlimited admissions to the Fair. These two tickets will later sell at $15.00 and $7.50 respectively. The identification photographs for these tickets are not required in advance, and will be taken at either of the Fair offices, in the Empire State building in New York City, or in the Administration Building.

Another offer made by the World's Fair sponsor for advance ticket sales is the $3.50 transferable Souvenir Ticket Book. This book is on sale only during this special period and includes entrance to six of the leading feature attractions of the Fair. Its value is $5.40.

For the help of those who live out of town, the New York Room Listing Service, Inc., 17 East 42 Street, New York City, is advertising that it will reserve rooms at any price level on request.

College English Club to Choose Officers, New Members Today

Elections of officers and new members will be in order at the meeting of the English club to be held this afternoon at five o'clock in Room 10, Old Chapel. President Edward G. Nixon will preside.

Ratification of the proposal will be complete when it has been passed by a two-thirds vote of the undergraduate men students and by a simple majority of the Womens Student Union. The second reading with discussion will take place Friday morning in chapel, and the third reading and vote of the men by secret ballot will be held in chapel Saturday morning.

A frame-work for men's student government consisting of legislative, executive and judicial departments is proposed. Null and void will be "all provisions of the constitution of the Undergraduate association of Middlebury College, the Men's Student Council, and Athletic council, . . . which pertain to men's student government in any form."

The appointment of the committee to revise the undergraduate association constitution took place in November. Onion and Palmer, both department assistants and majors in political science, were chosen by the president of the Undergraduate association to work on the project with Professor Bogart, head of the department. The result of their joint efforts is the proposed constitution for men's student government. Their plan is based on a general study of student governments, and a detailed study of a dozen student constitutions in use elsewhere, and is patterned very definitely after the United States constitution.

Vested in the legislative department, the Men's Student Assembly has the "power to enact Assembly regulations governing all purely student affairs." Compliance of Assembly regulations with college regulations will be assured by subjecting them to the approval of the Student Life committee. Coordination with women's student government will be achieved by making the approval of the legislative council of the Student Union and the signature of "the president thereof" necessary to cause Assembly regulations affecting women students to be "joint regulations enforced and administered jointly."

The president of the men's student government, elected directly by the student body according to a method prescribed by the Assembly, will head the executive department.

Merrill Prize Speaking Contest Set for Tuesday

Six members of the men's college will compete for the Merrill prizes in public speaking at the Playhouse next Tuesday, according to Professor V. Spencer Goodreds.

Robert L. deVeer '41 has chosen for his subject, "A Case for the Theatre". Harold M. Hotaling '41 will speak on "John Burroughs, Naturalist", and Leroy F. Hovey on "Socialized Medicine". Eli Silverman '41 in his speech entitled, "Wanted; Better Teachers" will make a plea for an increase in the standards of the teaching profession.

"The Need for Individualism" will be the subject of Ray H. Kiely while Milton I. Sheriff will present "W.P.A. Here We Come." Three prizes will be awarded and these will be announced later by Professor Goodreds. All the speeches are original and the speakers are members of the Speech Composition class under Professor Goodreds.

SELF-GOVERNMENT

The men's student body has before it the chance to prove or disprove the ultimate worth of the democratic process. In the new constitution for men's student government there is contained the possibility of achieving a high degree of responsible self-government.

If passed, the proposal will give the students of the men's college machinery of government which can compare far more favorably with that set up for the women's college than the old did. An important factor to be noted in the new constitution is the meshing of the two governments where joint jurisdiction is necessary. It is to achieve proper coordination in the control of joint activities that passage by a majority of Student Union is provided for in the ratification procedure.

Most important in the attempt to achieve true representative government under the proposed constitution are the elimination of automatic representation on the council and the setting up of a legislative assembly elected directly from the students. There was no justification for the presence of the presidents of Blue Key, Waubesa and the M club on the council. The legislative assembly will give a far greater measure of direct student participation in government than was possible under the old system.

The document contains no absolute turn-over of power and control to the students. The constitution is merely a frame-work on which to build. The Preamble states the following:

"We seek to establish herein only basic principles with the expectation that the duties and responsibilities of the Men's Student Government may correspondingly increase, when it proves its efficiency and responsibility, winning the respect and confidence of its constituents, the college administration, and the faculty."

In that is clearly indicated the fact that responsibility for the success or failure of student self-government is on the students. No outright grants of power will be made until the principle is proven sound.

With this in mind, we look to the coming discussions before the final vote on the new constitution with keen anticipation. In those discussions a rough measure of the probable success of the plan, if it is passed, can be taken. A lively discussion based on genuine student interest in the purposes, set-up and methods of the proposed student government will reveal that the plan, which rests major responsibility on a representative assembly, has a good chance for successful development and operation. A listless attitude on the part of students and petty quibbling over minor details will indicate that the existence of any general desire for self-government is a myth.

Proposed Constitution For Men's Student Government At Middlebury

PREAMBLE

We, the undergraduate men students of Middlebury College, do hereby ordain and establish a representative form of student government and dedicate it to the ideals of Middlebury College and to the principles of the democratic form of government under which we live as young American citizens.

Middlebury College seeks to teach good citizenship, as well as to train the mind and develop the personality of her students. It is our belief that representative student government can contribute to this objective by giving individual students the experience of direct participation in their own government, and by developing in every student a sense of personal responsibility for his own conduct and for the welfare of Middlebury College, of which he is a part.

The purpose of this constitution shall be to provide a controlling and directing force for every phase of undergraduate activity not directly administered by the College.

We seek to establish herein only basic principles with the expectation that the duties and responsibilities of the Men's Student Government may correspondingly increase, when it proves its efficiency and responsibility, winning the respect and confidence of its constituents, the College administration, and the faculty.

ARTICLE I, LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

Section 1, Men's Student Assembly

There shall be a legislative department, known as the Men's Student Assembly, established on the representative principle.

Section 2, Election of Representatives

1. The Men's Student Assembly (hereinafter called the Assembly) shall be composed of representatives, elected by the students by secret ballot. The word students when used in this Constitution shall mean undergraduate men students regularly enrolled in Middlebury College.

2. The students residing in each fraternity or dormitory, in which ten or more students shall reside at the time of the election, shall elect one of their number as their representative in the Assembly. There shall be a representative for each ten students in actual residence in any fraternity or dormitory but in no case shall an assembly member represent less than ten students. Students living in places of residence in which less than ten students reside may be combined by the President with other such places to complete the required number of members for a constituency.

3. The President of the Men's Student Government (hereinafter called the President) shall cause to be published in the CAMPUS, two weeks prior to the election, the list of living centers, which are entitled to elect representatives, together with the number of authorized representatives in each case. This list shall be considered in order and correct, unless there shall be, within one week, a written protest signed by at least ten students in residence in any one living center. In case of protest, a hearing shall be held and a final decision rendered within forty-eight hours by a Protest board, composed of the President, and the Secretary of the Assembly, unless a judiciary shall be established under this Constitution, in which case the Assembly may transfer this function to the Judicial department of the Men's Student Government.

4. The Assembly shall establish, by Assembly regulation, the time, place or places, and manner of elections, except that the election of representatives shall take place after October 10 and before October 20 of each year.

5. Before May 15 of each year the Assembly shall provide for the fall elections. The rules and regulations, so established, shall be administered by a committee chosen from the membership of the Assembly by the Assembly itself.

Section 3, Eligibility of Representatives

1. Any student is eligible for election as a representative, provided he is eligible for extra-curricular activities and is not on probation, in accordance with the regulations of Middlebury College.

2. In the event of the death, withdrawal, resignation, ineligibility, or removal of any representative, the Assembly shall order a special election.

3. Representatives shall take their oaths of office within ten days of their election and shall serve until 12 o'clock noon of the annual Commencement Day in the spring, except the election committee chosen to conduct elections the following fall.

Section 4. Assembly Rules

1. The Assembly shall create a system of standing committees of the Assembly and may, from time to time, create special committees.

2. The Assembly shall elect a speaker and such other officers, from its own membership, as it shall provide by Assembly rule. The term of office of Assembly officers shall coincide with the term of office of the representatives by whom they shall be elected.

3. The Assembly shall meet regularly at least once each month during the College year, and as frequently in addition thereto as the Assembly shall provide.

4. The Assembly shall provide a body of Assembly rules to govern the orderly transaction of business and to establish the procedure thereof. Assembly rules shall be established by a majority vote of the entire membership. The Assembly shall enact fixed rules regulating attendance of members at meetings of the Assembly and committee meetings thereof, and shall provide that persistent absence shall be cause for removal of any representative from office.

5. A majority of the membership of the Assembly shall constitute a quorum.

6. The Assembly shall have the power, by a two-thirds vote of the entire membership, to expel any representative or to remove any officer of the executive, legislative, or judicial departments, provided a written complaint, signed by at least ten representatives, shall have been filed with the Secretary of the Assembly and a special investigating committee of the Assembly shall have held a hearing and made a report thereon.

7. The meetings of the Assembly, standing committees, special committees, and sub-committees thereof, shall be open to students and reporters for the CAMPUS at all times.

Section 5. Assembly Regulations

1. The Assembly shall have power to enact Assembly regulations governing all purely student affairs. Such Assembly regulations shall be binding on all students and shall be enforced and administered by the executive department.

2. Assembly regulations shall be passed by a two-thirds vote of the entire membership and shall be published from time to time for the information of the students.

3. Assembly regulations shall become effective, when approved by the President, or, if he shall return them to the Assembly unsigned with his reasons for refusing his signature, when re-passed by a three-fourths vote of the entire membership of the Assembly. The President may approve the regulation in whole or in part.

4. Assembly regulations shall not become effective if contrary to the regulations of Middlebury College. Upon the completion of the passage by the Assembly, regulations shall be presented at once by the President to the Student Life Committee and shall be deemed to comply with College regulations unless specifically disapproved by that committee as contrary thereto.

5. The following list shall be suggestive, though not exhaustive, of the matters which are properly subject to control by Assembly regulation.

- To regulate, supervise, and charter all student clubs, societies, and other student organizations and activities and to determine their status.
- To foster Middlebury traditions and customs.
- To establish such executive agencies or positions subordinate to the president, as shall be necessary, to execute the policies it may enact.
- To regulate and provide for administering all student celebrations, mass meetings, dinners, dances, and other events, the supervision of which is not otherwise provided for by the regulations of Middlebury College.
- To regulate and administer all student elections.
- To formulate regulations for student conduct supplementary to and consistent with College regulations.
- To authorize proper expenditures necessary to the transactions of business of the Men's Student Government.
- To establish and regulate class organizations, elections, to provide for administering thereof, and to fix the duties of class officers.

6. Assembly regulations affecting women students shall not be effective unless they shall have been approved by the Legislative Council of the Student Union, and have been signed by the president thereof, in which case such Assembly regulations shall become joint regulations enforced and administered jointly.

7. In case the regulation is not passed by the Student Union, a conference committee shall be formed, consisting of four members of the Assembly, elected by the Assembly, and four members of the Student Union, elected by the Student Union.

Section 6. College Regulations

The enactment of College regulations is a function of the trustees and administrative officers of the College which may not be properly and legally transferred to a student government. Therefore, if the Assembly shall desire the enactment or revision of College regulations the Assembly shall, by Assembly regulation, instruct the proper committee to advise the administration of the recommendation of the Assembly. If, and when, the recommendation is acted upon favorably, the committee shall report the new or revised College regulation to the Assembly and the Assembly shall enact an Assembly regulation embodying the same content. The enforcement and administration of College regulations shall become the joint responsibility of the Men's Student Government and the administration.

Section 7. Assembly Resolutions

1. The Assembly shall have the power to enact Assembly resolutions by a majority vote of members present requesting information and reports from student organizations and student officers and inviting administration officers and faculty members to state their views, in person or in writing, on matters pending in the Assembly.

2. Assembly resolutions shall not require the signature of the President.

ARTICLE II, THE EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT

Section 1, The President

1. There shall be a president of the Men's Student Government, who shall be elected by students at large at an election to be held in the spring semester. He shall be inaugurated, with appropriate ceremonies, on Moving-up Day and shall hold office until the Moving-Up Day of the following year.

2. Any student, who has the status of a second semester junior, and who is eligible for extra-curricular activities and not on probation, according to College regulations, shall be eligible for election to the office of President. The Assembly shall provide all necessary election rules and machinery.

3. The President shall be the official representative of the Men's Student Government at all official functions. Jointly with the president of the Women's Student Union, he shall represent the student body of Middlebury College.

4. The President shall preside at the first regular meeting of the Assembly, until the Assembly shall choose its own officers. The president shall deliver to the Assembly, at its first regular meeting, a presidential address in which he shall advise the newly elected representatives of the problems requiring their attention and recommend action thereon. The president may, at any time during his term of office, send special messages to the Assembly, either in person or in writing, and such messages must be referred to the appropriate committee and reported therefrom.

5. The President must review all Assembly regulations in accordance with the provisions of Article I, Section 5, paragraph 3, and shall sign same, or return same to the Assembly with reasons for withholding his signature, before the next regular meeting of the Assembly. He shall consult with the President's council before deciding whether to sign or reject such regulations, but need not be governed by their advice.

Harold Kennedy Discusses Movies As Compared With Modern Theatre

By William F. Gilbert '42

Harold J. Kennedy, a member of Orson Welles Mercury theatre and an actor in the cast of Welles' recent success, "Julius Caesar," spoke informally Friday evening at the Playhouse. He gave an analysis of the conditions in the contemporary theatre, and his comments on the swift rise of Orson Welles were especially entertaining, as well as those on his contacts with other present-day actors.

Compares Movie and Theatre

The theme of the speaker's discussion was a comparison of the movie and the theatre, as to audience and possibilities. Interspersed with personal details and back-stage personalities, he went on to analyse the merits of some of the recent Broadway successes.

The modern theatre, Mr. Kennedy said, has made the wise decision of giving up almost entirely the spectacular type of production which can be done so much more successfully by the Hollywood film companies. The movies must cater to its audience, while the theatre tries to attract a higher type by producing a higher form of entertainment. The people outside the cities, who used to support the stock companies now patronize the movie theatre, he explained. They go, not for acting, or great plays, but to see personal stars, or gigantic spectacles. The theatre can and does produce plays which appeal to the intelligent, educated audience.

The modern theatre audience has changed with the change in the function of the play, Mr. Kennedy continued. Today New York audiences, considered the typical, and most critical, are primarily young, college-educated people. This more intelligent type is rapidly replacing the older, conservative group.

Plays Becoming Simplified

The second part of the speaker's discussion concerned the change in purpose of the modern theatre, as typified by Orson Welles and his productions. First of all, it has become simplified, using less pageantry and more great, serious writing. Elaborate sets and costumes are not as necessary when the lines of the play have something vital to say to the audience. The serious play, like "Our Town," attracts great audiences, because it deals in problems vital to everyone, and holds them because it makes them feel that they are a part of the action developing on the stage. Making the audience part of the production has been the means of success of such revived vaudeville productions as "Hellzapoppin." By a series of tricks and stunts the people watching are made an active part of the performance.

Mr. Kennedy predicted that the play most likely to receive the Pulitzer Prize award is "Abe Lincoln in Illinois." This portrays an historic figure dealing with problems as vital now as they were in his time.

Saxonian Contests End May Fifteenth

Final Number of Magazine Will Feature Best Short Stories, Winning Letters

May 15 is the last date that short stories may be submitted for judgment in the Saxonian short story contest, according to Jeanette C. Martin '40, editor-in-chief of the magazine.

This contest is for the best experiment in the short story, and the winning stories, to be judged by a faculty committee of three, will appear in the next issue of the Saxonian. The best three stories will receive fifteen, ten, and five dollar awards.

Another contest is also being sponsored for this issue, for the three best letters about some subject of general interest and importance to Middlebury college. Two dollars each will be awarded for the three prize winning letters, and they will be published in the next issue of the Saxonian with editorial comment.

The next issue of the Saxonian, containing the prize-winning stories and letters, is the commencement issue, which will appear about June 1. This is to be the largest issue of the year, and will contain over forty pages.

Dr. Rex C. Clements to Speak at Chapel Sunday

Speaking at the Vespers service Sunday will be Dr. Rex Stowers Clements, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania.

Dr. Clements is active in the movement for unification of churches. The leaders of this movement believe that, since all churches are working for the same fundamentals, unification would add to their strength.

In keeping with this principle, Dr. Clements' church in Bryn Mawr and the Congregational church there have been united. Dr. Clements was formerly a leader of the Church of the Covenant in Boston.

This is the second time Dr. Clements has spoken at Middlebury, having given a Vespers sermon here last year.

WOMEN'S EXHIBITION PRESENTED IN GYM BY TWO LOWER CLASSES

gave a demonstration of the work they had done this year in their gym classes Friday afternoon in McCulloch gymnasium. The final match in the Women's college badminton tournament followed the demonstration.

The exhibition was opened by a grand march of the members of both classes. The sophomores did two English country dances, a folk dance and several tap routines as a class. A military tap by a few of the women climaxed their performance.

Freshman classes demonstrated their work with calisthenics, fundamental rhythms and a tumbling and pyramid act, which was finished by an intricate somersaulting exit.

Mary E. Donati '40 and Carol E. Hubbard '41 were opponents in the badminton match. In two straight sets Miss Hubbard gained the championship title, defeating Miss Donati 11-8, 11-9.

Alpha Xi Delta

The Alpha Xi's took the rose, the emblem of the sorority, for the theme of their formal Saturday night. The Collegians provided music for the dinner dance in the atmosphere of a rose garden.

Chaperones were Prof. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Wissler, Prof. and Mrs. Raymond H. White, Mrs. Raymond Barney, and Prof. and Mrs. V. Spencer Goodreds.

Chi Psi

At an informal held at the Chi Psi lodge last Saturday night thirty couples danced to recorded music. Chaperoning were Prof. and Mrs. Harry M. Fife, Prof. and Mrs. Perley C. Perkins, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen A. Freeman.

Phi Mu

Mexico was the theme of the evening at the Phi Mu formal held in their rooms last Saturday night. Jack Collins' Swing band provided the music for the dance which was chaperoned by Prof. and Mrs. John F. Haller, Prof. and Mrs. Everett Skillings, and Prof. and Mrs. Stephen A. Freeman.

Pi Beta Phi

The New Vermonters played for the Pi Beta Phi formal dinner dance at the Inn in the midst of a garden of spring flowers. Prof. and Mrs. Charles D. Howell and Prof. and Mrs. Walter T. Bogart were chaperones. Several patrons were guests of the sorority, including Prof. and Mrs. Perley C. Voter, Miss Rose E. Martin and Mrs. Janet W. Kingsley.

"Rejuvenation" Theme Stressed By Dr. Brown, Chapel Speaker

Dr. Charles R. Brown, Dean of Yale Divinity School, author, and former lecturer, was the speaker at Sunday vespers. He addressed the students on the subject, "Being Made Over," after having quoted for the scripture reading from Revelation 21-22.

Dean Brown gave by way of introduction a description of the first airplane flight he witnessed, in the early part of the century. The plane struggled along the ground, finally rose to about sixty feet, wobbled about, and after a short flight, crashed. Many human lives are like that early plane, he pointed out, struggling along on the ground, barely able to rise, and crashing after a short flight. These lives need to "wait upon the Lord," need to be "made over".

Rejuvenation of Self

We can be made over in three ways. Firstly, Dr. Brown said, we must consider the physical aspect. Our state of mind has a great influence on the functional condition of the body, he said, although naturally organic diseases are not affected by this factor. "Our bodies are a general expression of all our past thinking", and the thoughts which occupy our minds determine to a great extent the physical condition of our bodies. Our thoughts are dynamic; one told of a friend killed in an accident becomes pale, weak, and is physically affected, not through any external factor, but by his thoughts. Dr. Brown pointed out that "here are forces which can be utilized for the renewal of our whole life".

Secondly, Dean Brown emphasized, we must be transformed mentally. Many people are intellectually starved, living as they do on newspapers, radios, and magazines. It is so with irreligious people, for their minds lack "height, depth, and content." People today are not thinking people, he said, for they are in too much of a hurry.

Spiritual Transformation

Thirdly, he showed that we must be transformed spiritually, "by striving for the mind that was in Christ". Christ humbled himself, became a servant, and throughout time he will be exalted, because of this. Service will be the way of life revered and chosen by all, in the end, because of this sacrifice.

In Dean Brown's opinion, the efforts of certain leaders to lead the world to a Utopia would be amusing if they were not pathetic. They should realize that the people themselves must be changed, before drastic social changes can be brought about. As Christ said, the vine must be good if the fruit is to be good. Religion, as a magnet makes iron filings swing around into position, rearranges human lives into their correct pattern. "Be not conformed in these less worthy ways of life", Dr. Brown concluded, "Be transformed."

International Affairs Discussed In Congregational Church Meeting

By Katharine H. Oldham '41

A heated discussion on America's responsibility in the present European crisis took place in Middlebury's Congregational church Sunday evening, sponsored by the Committee for Social Action of the Congregational and Methodist churches.

Prof. James S. Prentice emphasized the importance of learning our moral responsibility and introduced Prof. Allen M. Cline who outlined our present neutrality policy and the proposed changes now under consideration in the Senate.

Speakers Open Program

Brief summaries by the main speakers, Mr. Wilder Foote, Dr. Estelle J. Foote and the Rev. Charles F. Whiston, opened the formal discussion.

Mr. Foote, representing the collectivist viewpoint, argued that Nazi aggression must be checked by collective organization of the world on American principles of union. He would like the neutrality law repealed and is in sympathy with Roosevelt's letter to the dictators; he believes that the United States should demand cooperation of England and France in removing trade barriers and rebuilding respect for international law.

Dr. Estelle J. Foote spoke as an isolationist, warning against taking sides, as with England or France, whom she claims will fight to keep every bit of land they ever acquired. She continued by giving examples of how she believed England and France do not live up to the name "democracy."

Pacifist Attitude Stated

The Rev. Mr. Whiston presented the pacifist attitude, declaring that peace to us means the status quo, which is based on injustice and which is such a miserable situation for Germany and Italy that they prefer war to it. No use of force has ever secured lasting peace, according to Mr. Whiston, who believes that a sacrifice is necessary on the part of France, England, Russia and the United States. Since none of them seem willing to repent for exploitation in their own past and offer to make a sacrifice, he believes there will be war.

Informal Discussion

An informal discussion followed these talks. In answer to Mr. Foote's question concerning the supporters of pacifism, Mr. Whiston replied that there are 100,000 Englishmen pledged not to go to war, who will die but not kill for their country. He was then challenged by the Rev. Mr. Carothers as to whether he would deny that war ever accomplished any good, citing the American Revolution and the Civil War. The Reverend Mr. Whiston stated that both wars were unnecessary, that war changes situations but does not accomplish lasting good.

Extra Curricular

French Club

Applications for membership in the French club next year were distributed at the meeting last evening at the Chateau. Others who wish may get applications from Louise D. Roberts '39 or at the Chateau office. These will be due on May 6.

A short French play, "Theodore Cherche des Allumettes" by Georges Courteline constituted the program. Prof. Stephen A. Freeman and Prof. Albert Ranty took the parts of father and son in this play. This was a departure from previous plays given at the monthly meetings as students usually take the acting parts.

German Club

Professor Neuse will be the speaker on Tuesday May 2 at a meeting of the German club. Elections will take place at this time and refreshments will be served.

Spanish Club

Mary E. Donati '40 was elected president of the Spanish club, succeeding A. Irene Fernandez '39, at a meeting Wednesday evening in Forest recreation hall. Jessie W. Matthew '41 will replace Eloise L. Jenkins '40 as secretary-treasurer.

Doris E. Keffer '40 and Betsey B. White '40 gave a Spanish dance in costume, and Sara O. Martenis '41 recited a number of Spanish ditties. Ralph Petrizzi '39 sang some operatic selections.

MRS. A. LEROY JONES WILL SPEAK TONIGHT TO A.A.U.W. MEETING

Tonight at eight o'clock the Middlebury branch of the American Association of University women will meet in the Abernethy library to hear Mrs. Adam LeRoy Jones speak. A reception for the senior women of the college will also be given at this time.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the local branch of the A.A.U.W., Mrs. Jones is the director of the North Atlantic section of that society. As yet the subject of Mrs. Jones' talk has not been announced.

Open to graduates from certain colleges, the A.A.U.W. numbers at present about forty-seven members in its enrollment in the local area.

Committee in charge of this evening's entertainment includes: Miss Gertrude Branon, Mrs. William S. Burrage, Miss Clara B. Knapp and Miss S. Emily Serex.

Forensic Trio to Defend U. S. Spending at Williams

Middlebury's debating trio will have its next to last encounter of the season with Williams tonight at Williamstown. The team has won five and lost four debates this year.

The topic which has been argued in previous debates this season, that of government spending to stimulate business, will be used for the discussion. Upholding the affirmative for Middlebury will be Phillips Palmer '39, Norman C. Smith '39 and Glenn H. Leggett '40. Each of these men gives a ten minute main speech, followed by one six minute rebuttal.

Yale will send her team to Middlebury on May 5 for the final contest.

Feature of last year's program of the Middlebury university women was a talk by Mrs. Spencer Martin. Mrs. Martin's lecture dealt with the year she spent in France as a Dutton fellow from Middlebury in 1931.

Women's Debating Season Nears End

Team to Meet New Jersey State Teachers, Hunter And Elmira Next Week

Women debaters will make a trip to Elmira college, Hunter college, and New Jersey State Teachers' college next week.

On Tuesday at Elmira college at Elmira, New York, Margaret Doubleday '39 and Audrey H. Wouters '41 will participate in a group discussion on the question: "Resolved, that the United States should cease to use public funds to stimulate business."

The Wednesday debate will be with Hunter college in New York City. Frances E. Kellogg '39 and Miss Wouters will uphold the negative side of the question: "Resolved, that the Neutrality Act should be amended."

The team will debate before the public speaking class of New Jersey State Teachers' college at Patterson on Thursday. Miss Doubleday and Miss Kellogg will speak on the negative side of the same question argued at Elmira.

This will be the last trip of the year for the women's debating team, and the contest at New Jersey State Teachers' college will close the series of fifteen debates held this year. Debating coach, Prof. Perley C. Perkins, will accompany the team on the trip.

Following their return from New Jersey, the members of the team will hold elections for their new manager.

Recital Given Sunday in Mead Chapel by Seniors Dorothy J. Briggs, Soloist, and Elinor R. Wieland

By Barbara M. Grow '41

Dorothy J. Briggs '39, contralto, was featured as soloist in a song recital held Sunday evening in Mead chapel. Elinor R. Wieland '39, besides accompanying the singer, played a number of selections on the piano.

Introducing each set of songs with a brief and opportune explanation of the source or meaning of the lyrics, Miss Briggs began her program with "Che Faro Senza Euridice" by Gluck, from the opera "Orpheus," setting the tone for the whole concert. The soloist's remarkable tonal qualities, sustained control, and depth of feeling were proven by this number, as well as the selection which followed, Martini's "Placer d'Amor." The third song of the group, "Chi Vuol la Zingarella" was a light gay gypsy air.

Miss Wieland followed with three piano solos. Her first selection was Clementi's "Sonata Opus 47, No. 2, First Movement" played with fine breadth of feeling. She continued with the more familiar MacDowell piece, "A Scottish Tone Picture", and a Bach number, "Arioso."

Miss Briggs returned with a group of three German songs, "A Dream" by Grieg, "Der Doppelgänger" by Schubert, and "Springtide" by Grieg. The Schubert number, sung in German with the full advantage of the soloist's deep voice, was noteworthy.

The last series of songs began with Ross's "Dawn on the Desert," a number testing the whole range of the soloist, before rising to a triumphant and tremendous climax. The dramatic qualities of the singer were shown by the next selection, "What the Chimney Sang" by Griswold. The last song on the program was Herrmann's "Three Comrades."

First Call

College women with secretarial training have the first call on positions of trust and responsibility, at the heart of a business. Employers all over the country express their preference for Gibbs-trained secretaries with college background . . . The Placement Department regularly has more calls for such secretaries than there are graduates available.

• Ask College Course Secretary for "Results," a booklet of placement information, and illustrated catalog.

• Special Course for College Women opens in New York and Boston, September 26, 1939.

• AT NEW YORK SCHOOL ONLY—same course may be started July 10, preparing for early placement.

Middlebury Drops Initial State League Game 4-3

St. Mikes and Panthers Go Twelve Innings Before End

A two-run rally by the Panther ball team which sent the game into extra innings was nullified yesterday when two twelfth inning singles gave St. Michael's a 4-3 win. The game was the first home game and also marked the opening of the state series.

Harry Van Gaasbeck started for the Middmen until the fifth when he was relieved by Gustafson. Van was effective, fanning five and allowing no free tickets, but singles by Ryan and Ducharmier of the Purple followed by an infield error gave the invaders a two run lead in the fourth. With one out in the fifth Larmie doubled and Wallin tripled bringing Gus to the hill.

In the seventh the Panther crashed the scoring column. After Hutton fanned, Prukop singled sharply to center. Bertuzzi walked, but Johnny Kirk also struck out. However, McGrath, St. Michael's catcher dropped the third strike and both Prukop and Bertuzzi advanced. Prukop raced home as Ed Yeomans reached on an error by pitcher Steffens, and Jacques ended the flurry by fanning.

The ninth was the big inning for the locals. Hutton was hit on the back with a pitched ball and Gignac was sent out to run for him. Prukop walked and the bases were loaded when Bertuzzi reached on a scratch single. Kirk walked forcing in Gignac, and after Yeomans hoisted to short, Jacques scratched a hit to score Prukop with the tying run.

After handcuffing the visitors for a six full frames, Gustafson weakened in the twelfth. Herbert led off with a single to right and scored after two were out on Ryan's Texas leaguer which landed between Hawes and Bertuzzi. The Middmen lost a chance to stay in the ball game in the last of the twelfth when Dudick, St. Michael's first sacker, pulled down Prukop's vicious drive to end the game and leave Gignac stranded on the base paths.

Ten walks, eight hits and three errors by the visitors gave Middlebury several good chances to score. Loose base running and the failure of the stickers to come through in the pinches tossed these opportunities away. Both Gus and Van pitched good ball fanning twelve and only walking two over the whole route. Ducharmier, Dudick and Ryan led the St. Mike's attack with two blows apiece while eight Middmen hit safely once.

GOLF TEAM OPENS WITH DARTMOUTH ON HANOVER LINKS

The Middlebury golf team will finally open their spring campaign this week when they meet Dartmouth on the 29th, Williams on May 2, and Colgate on May 3—all matches being away.

The team has not yet been definitely picked. Three men will be chosen on the basis of their ranking in the ladder tournament now being held to determine team positions. These three men will pair with Co-Capt. Petrizzi and Cushman—the third man being the alternate—to form the Panther foursome. Outstanding candidates for these spots are Dixie Davis, George West, Roger Howard and Don Chapman.

Coach Beck has been handicapped by the condition of the course. But with the fairways and greens finally drying after the spring rains, the squad will now be able to get started on the ladder tournament and also gain some much needed practice.

The ladder tournament is a more complex form of round robin matches. Each man on the list can challenge the first or second man above him. The tournament is planned so all men will have a chance to play a match with another player.

Williams Trackmen Subdue Middlebury

Clarke, King, Win Discus, Shot Put, as Team Loses 92-43

Duplicating last year's score and taking thirteen first places out of fifteen events, Williams track team swept to a 92-43 triumph over Middlebury last Saturday in the Panthers second meet.

Only bright spot in the Middlebury defeat was the clean sweep of the discus by Clarke, King, and Davis, and the shot put victory by King. Clarke tossed the platter 116 feet 10 inches, while King pushed the iron ball out for 37 feet 3 inches.

The loss of Hicks was felt in the dashes as Williams stars, Veltor and Schumo, took the honors in both the hundred and the 220.

Track Summaries

100 yard dash: Veltor, W., first; Schumo, W., second; Patterson, W., third. Time 10 seconds.

220 yard dash: Veltor and Schumo, W., tie; Thompson, M., third. Time 23.5 seconds.

440 yard dash: Gothschalk, W., first; Harris W., second; Moore, W., third. Time 52.6 seconds.

880 yard run: Gilman, W., first; P. Cushman M., second; R. Cushman M., third. Time 2:03.5 minutes.

1 Mile Run: Griffith, W., first; Post, M., second; R. Cushman, M., third. Time 4:54.9 minutes.

Two Mile Run: Lena, W., first; Kiliani, W., second; Mercure, M., third. Time 10:57.1 minutes.

120 yard hurdles: Moore, W., first; Wood, M., second; Backup, M., third. Time 15.4 minutes.

TIME OUT by DAVY

A SPLINTERED SUBJECT

The recent defeats of the Middlebury track team has brought into the open an issue that has passed the joking stage. We refer, namely to the board track. Usually considered the Middlebury "roller coaster" among other superlatives, the track has reached a stage where it is dangerous to run on. Looking back at this seasons practice sessions we can definitely trace the loss of Johnny Hicks to the many dips and humps in the boards. Furthermore, Tom Huxley, an embryo high hurdler was almost severely injured when he put his foot through one of the rotten planks. Considering that the weather conditions usually force the track team to confine all practices to the boards—even during the first two meets—we see a real need for a new structure.

All of which brings us to the question—why can't we have a new board track? Rumor has it, that a thousand feet of lumber will be used for repairs this summer. A futile attempt in our viewpoint to fix a track that needs complete rebuilding. When the college can put up four tennis courts that turn out to be eyesores, why can't they rebuild the board track? Admittedly the tennis courts provide an excellent base for the hockey rink, but the same effect could be produced by using a good heavy roller. When the safety of Midd athletes is concerned we would rather see the money used to erect courts for the pleasures of others, used for a better purpose. A decent track could be built well under $2000 and in the long run would more than pay for itself as well as erasing a lot of headaches for Coach Brown and the Middlebury indoor relay and track teams.

PARADISE LOST

Public opinion has it that the Middlebury baseball team is not so good. And sad to say we are inclined to agree—still however with a measure of optimism. The Colgate game we thought was really more of a social error. The Middlebury pitchers never met so many people before that they didn't know. In fact it seems that everytime they turned around there were a lot of strangers on the bases. Even the Williams loss was to be expected. The team after all was void and vulnerable on the question of enough practice. But yesterday's twelve inning ball game, which saw St. Michaels take the first league game away from the Panthers, sort of upset our plans for copping the State Series.

Time has a way of healing old wounds so they say. So we really have no terrific kick coming about the Panther nine. What will happen on the one game trip that the Panthers leave on tomorrow remains to be seen. If Vermont can lose, Norwich and St. Michaels drop a few games—and Middlebury win a few—it should all even up in the end. We still have those dreams of the league title—and so does, we shouldn't be surprised, Coach Nash who has a potentially good ball club to work with.

COMMENTS ON CAMPUS

We were talking to Archie Tilford the other day about fishing. Opening day in Vermont is next week—May first, and along with the others who will get up at three in the morning, we're going out to catch what we can. What it all means is that Archie who goes around with an insurance policy in one hand, and a fishing rod in another, passes on the information that there will be a lot of good fishing this season.

So the dinghy team did go to Brown, and not only that, but they placed ninth out of eleven crews. A good record, that would have been better if the Panther crew had had some recent sailing experience. A Class D Dinghy in case some don't know is only twelve feet long, and carries a sail area that makes the boat almost overrigged. It takes clever handling to sail one of these bathtubs through six races a day without capsizing. But what interests us most is the way the embryo sports at Middlebury are justifying themselves. The fencing team has already fenced a few matches, and now the sailing team is making all headway to a safe port.

PANTHER NETMEN TO MEET SUFFOLK IN INITIAL CONTEST

Emerging from a week of shower-dodging practices the Panther tennis crew has been chosen for the first match to be played tomorrow with Suffolk.

Capt. Bill O'Keeffe, Jack Crawford, and Curtiss McDowell, all of last year's club, will patrol the tapes in the singles. O'Keeffe and Crawford will then combine their efforts and play number one position in the doubles.

Number two place in the doubles is to be upheld by freshmen Alex Alexander and Bob Maxwell. Alexander, holder of the Boles tennis cup for three years at Gunnery, displays good experience on the court. Maxwell, the other strong freshman member shows great ability with the racket.

A second home match will be played with Norwich on Friday and a third with N. Y. State Teachers the following day. No definite positions have been named as the results of tomorrow's game may make some changes necessary.

R. P. I. Track Meet Scheduled Friday

Doubtful Whether Hicks, Butler, or Wood Able To Compete

Approaching a meet that they will have more than an even chance of winning, the Middlebury track team will travel to R.P.I. this Friday for their third meet of the season.

Although the track scene at Midd has changed somewhat to the gloomier side—if such is possible—the Panthers are still rated a good chance to hang up their initial win of the year.

Middlebury's bad luck now takes the form of the loss of three star men. Hicks is still out with a strained muscle, Wood pulled a muscle in the Williams meet, and Butler is still beset by an injury jinx that holds over from last years campaigns. That these three men will be available for the R.P.I. trip is extremely doubtful, according to Coach Brown in a recent statement.

Whether Rog Clarke, Davis, and King, can sweep the discus again is also a moot point with Coach Brown. Little is known about the R.P.I. team at present. With the better facilities at R.P.I. they have probably had the chance to be in as good if not better condition than the Panthers.

In the sprints the Panthers will use Thompson and Brown. The half mile and the mile will be taken care of by Paul and Bob Cushman. Post will probably double in the mile and the two miles as he did at Williams. The pole vault will see Trask and Barclay again battling it out for the honors.

The weights will have Clarke, Myers, Davis, King, and Lawrence holding forth in the shot, discus, and hammer. Tabor will be in the high, and will try and get out of the rut he has been in the past few meets. Bursaw and Brown will compete in the broad, and Zydik will toss the javelin Zydik, hampered by the wet field at Williams, which does not agree with his style of throwing, is expected to do much better at R.P.I.

Charlie Hanson should take the 440. This leaves all events accounted for except the high and low hurdles. Who can best fill the shoes of Wood is not known as yet. Probably Brown will take his place and Huxley may have a chance in the same races.

Sammy Bertuzzi Slated to Hurl Against Albany Aggregation

The Panther baseball nine will meet New York State Teachers at Albany tomorrow. Coach Nash will take a squad of eleven men and possibly two more freshmen.

Gustafson, who was slated to pitch the Union game cancelled early this morning after Union had called telling of bad field conditions, will not pitch. Gus was worked for seven innings in the St. Michaels game which puts the Midd captain in need of rest. Sammy Bertuzzi will be moved from the outfield to take Capt. Gustafson's place on the mound. Jacques will receive; Prukop will be in centerfield, Arnold replaces Bertuzzi, and with Johnny Hogan will complete the outfield.

Hutton will hold down second base, and act as lead-off man. Eddie Gignac is a possibility for the position, but may not make the trip owing to scholastic difficulties. Yeomans at first base, Hawes as shortstop, and Kirk at third base will fill out the infield.

Harry Van Gaasbeck and Walt Knight will go along as relief pitchers with Bertuzzi also on hand. Larry Glazier, freshman infielder who has been showing up well in practice, may also make the trip.

STATE TEACHERS STRENGTH UNKNOWN TO MIDDLEBURY

Little is known about the New York State Teachers team. This is the first time in many years that the Panthers have played the Albany delegation, and no past records are available for reference. Middlebury will enter this game with a record of three straight defeats. The Midd team hampered more than usual by bad weather and practice conditions may take the opportunity and make this the initial Panther win. At least Coach Johnny Nash hopes so. The ball club is potentially a good one with many freshman as well as varsity stars in its lineup.

MIDD CREW DRIFTS INTO NINTH PLACE IN DINGHY EVENTS

Middlebury's initial attempt at inter-collegiate dinghy racing last Saturday and Sunday at Providence resulted in a ninth place out of eleven for the Panther sailors. Northeastern and Holy Cross won the regatta.

Bob Crane, Fred Davis, Aaron Whitlock, Dick Files and Albert Root were the Middlebury crews to make the trip. Davis, Crane, and Files split the honors for skipping the Midd boats. Crane compiled a score of 34 points while Davis and Files combined totaled 19 points to make the Panther score 53 points. Six races a day were held, two crews racing three times.

The regatta was sponsored by the Brown university Yacht Club and was the annual non-member races held under the auspices of the Intercollegiate Yacht Racing association. The course was raced on the Seekonk river and the Brown dinghy fleet was used.

Triangle Race Canceled

The I.C.Y.R.A. sponsors these races every year for the purpose of stimulating interest in its organization comprising most of the colleges with dinghy fleets. The winner of the Brown regatta will be allowed to compete in the annual dinghy championships held at M.I.T. later in May. All the boats in this race will be members of the I.C.Y.R.A. with the exception of this one boat.

A triangle race with Dartmouth and Williams at Hanover was called Sunday due to ice on the lake at Hanover.

Crane and Davis are the originators of the sailing idea at Middlebury and hope that interest among students and alumni will be great enough to continue the sport and eventually get a dinghy fleet of their own and thus gain recognition in the I.C.Y.R.A.

New Men's Constitution

6. The President shall be responsible for the enforcement of all regulations enacted by the Assembly.

7. In case of the death, withdrawal, ineligibility, or removal of the President, the Speaker of the Assembly shall succeed to the office.

Section 2, The President's Council

1. There shall be a President's council consisting of the student presidents of the senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman classes, and additional advisors who may be appointed by the President with the consent of the Assembly, not to exceed three in number.

2. The President's council shall advise the President on all matters of student government and shall meet on the call of the President. Members of the President's council shall have all privileges of the floor in the Assembly without vote, unless they are members in their own right.

Section 3, The Treasurer

1. The treasurer, or another appropriate officer, to be determined jointly by the President of the College and the President of the Men's Student Government, of Middlebury College shall be ex-officio treasurer of the Men's Student Government.

2. The treasurer shall pay no vouchers for the Men's Student Government, unless such vouchers have been signed by the President, and the Speaker of the Assembly, certifying that such voucher represents an expenditure properly authorized by the Assembly.

Section 4, The Student Life Committee

The Student Life Committee of Middlebury College shall render advice on general matters of student government when requested to do so by the President of the Men's Student Government or the Speaker of the Assembly, and shall continue to have authority over all matters concerning students at Middlebury. However, the purpose of this constitution is to provide a basis of student government sufficiently effective to justify the Student Life Committee in restricting its efforts to advice rather than direct control.

ARTICLE III, JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT

Section 1, The Men's Student Court

The Assembly, by Assembly regulation, may establish a men's student court and fix its jurisdiction, authority, and rules of procedure in all purely student matters.

Section 2, Disciplinary Cases

The Assembly may deem it desirable to extend the jurisdiction of the men's student court to matters of discipline, which are by the regulations of the College properly the jurisdiction of the administrative officers of the College. In such cases, the Assembly shall, by Assembly resolution, respectfully petition the Dean of the Men's College for authority to extend the jurisdiction of the men's student court, if consistent with the regulations of Middlebury College. If such authorization is received, the Assembly shall by Assembly regulation extend the jurisdiction of the court in accordance therewith.

Section 3, Selection of Judges

1. The number of judges and the use of the jury system shall be matters of Assembly determination, except that the Assembly must provide a method of selection of judges which shall remove them from political control.

2. No judge shall be selected without the approval of the Student Life Committee.

ARTICLE IV, TRANSITION PERIOD

Section 1. Prior to the election of the first Men's Student Assembly in the fall of 1939, all of the powers and duties granted to the Assembly in the matter of elections under Article I, Section 2, paragraph 4 and 5, and Article I, Section 5, paragraphs 5e and 5h, and the authority of the protest board under Article I, Section 2, paragraph 3, shall be exercised by the Student Council elected in May, 1939, which council except for the President shall be dissolved after the first meeting of the Assembly in the fall of 1939.

Section 2. The Student Council shall take such action, as is necessary, to make this constitution effective, and the members thereof, on the dissolution of the Council, when the first Assembly shall have been elected, shall occupy seats in the Assembly in the first meeting of the Assembly without vote, but with all of the privileges of the floor so that they may assist the first Assembly to organize and conduct its business.

ARTICLE V, EFFECTIVE DATE

Section 1, Ratification

This constitution shall become effective, if acted upon favorably by two thirds majority of the Men's Student Council in office May 1, 1939, provided it is also acted upon favorably by a simple majority of the Women's Student Union in office on the same date, and provided it is approved by the Student Life Committee; provided further, that it shall be approved by two-thirds of the undergraduate men students regularly enrolled in Middlebury College, who shall vote on this constitution at a special meeting called by the President of the Undergraduate Association.

Section 2, Proclamation

If, and when, the conditions of ratification, as set forth in Section 1 above, are fulfilled, the president of the Undergraduate Association for 1938-39 shall proclaim this constitution in full force and effect.

ARTICLE VI, REPEAL OF THE OLD CONSTITUTION

Section 1. All the provisions of the constitution of the Undergraduate Association of Middlebury College, the Men's Student Council, and Athletic Council, as printed in the college Handbook for 1938-39, which pertain to Men's Student Government in any form, including Article 3, which provides for the president of the Undergraduate Association, shall be null and void when this constitution shall become effective.

Section 2. Those provisions which pertain to Women's Student Government are retained until properly amended by action of the Women's Student Union.

ARTICLE VII, AMENDMENT

This constitution may be amended by a three-fourths vote of the entire membership of the Assembly, provided that the amendment shall be approved by the Student Life Committee and ratified by a majority of the students voting on the amendment at a special meeting called by the President for that purpose.

A Long, High Fly

Thar's Gold in Them Thar' Gulps! And Indigestion, Too!

Goldfish gobbling has come into its own! And to be a real contender for high honors you must down them when they're live and wriggling. It all started some months ago when a little-publicized University of Akron student, Paul Buzzi, downed one — yes, just one. Now the record stands at 89, and it's held by Joseph Deliberato, Clark University, who gulped them all in 14 minutes with the help of a half-pint of milk for a wash. Just in case you're contemplating entering this newest form of intercollegiate competition, we pass on to you this warning of an eminent medical authority: Goldfish are subject to fish tape-worms. When they are eaten alive these worms settle in the intestinal tract and cause anemia.

1 Harvard's Lothrop Withington, Jr., started the fad on the road to fame by swallowing one four-inch goldfish for $10.

2 Gilbert Hollandersky, University of Pennsylvania, held the title for a couple of days after he forced down 25. With collegians all over the U. S. competing, he didn't keep the title long.

3 Then Irving Clark, Jr., returned the title to Harvard by swallowing 29. "They're kinda bitter, but they go down easy," he claims.

4 Top honors in the slippery sport were held for a short while by Donald Mulcahy of Boston College. He topped off his 30 with a dish of ice cream. The president of his college has since barred further attempts at the record.

5 First co-ed competitor is Marie Hansen, University of Missouri. Her record of one was accomplished after a big oyster breakfast.

6 Somewhat more original, John Patrick, University of Chicago junior, has a record on record-eating. He crunched down three, but refused to eat the centers because "paper gives me indigestion".

He Creates Parthenogenetic (Fatherless) Rabbits

Dr. Gregory Pincus, experimental zoology professor at Clark University, has succeeded in producing a strain of fatherless rabbits. Eggs are removed from a female rabbit, treated chemically and are then put into the fallopian tubes of another rabbit, the "host mother", for foetal development. At birth the baby rabbits have the markings and other characteristics of their actual mother, and none of their foster mother's. Dr. Pincus is shown examining rabbit ova in a nourishing blood serum preparatory to injecting them into the foster mother (not the one from which the eggs were obtained). Work in this field may lead, it is hoped, to the breeding of pure strains of domestic animals.
